

Letter Prompts New Protest Over Police Barracks

MOUNT POCONO — The Top of the Poconos Assn. has fired another letter to Gov. David L. Lawrence protesting State Police Commissioner Frank G. McCarthy's proposal to close the State Police barracks in Mount Pocono. The letter was prompted by the receipt of information that Alvah Merwin, owner of the property now occupied by the barracks, was "officially notified by registered mail on Sept. 1 that the department was closing its barracks and would not renew the present lease which expires Nov. 30."

The letter added: "This news came to us as quite a shock, especially in view of the fact that the owner is already negotiating for a new tenant."

Following an urgent meeting of the executive committee of our organization today (Tuesday), I have been requested to forward the above information to you at once with a request that we be advised whether or not the commissioner is definitely closing the barracks as indicated in an article released by him July 22, 1959, or if there is actually a further study being made before final action is taken."

On Aug. 27, the Governor advised that he will re-evaluate the situation. Accordingly, the proposed closing of the substation has been delayed."

In a letter to State Sen. William Z. Scott (R-Lansford) on Aug. 13, the police commissioner wrote: "This movement has been misinterpreted and is more closely related to an adjustment of a situation rather than a definite shutting down of a facility . . ."

"At your request, I shall again conduct a complete evaluation of this substation and withhold any action with regard to the closing until this has been done."

In the letter it sent to the Governor this week, the Top of the Poconos Assn. referred to the promised re-evaluation.

"Except for a visit from a representative of the commissioner's office, Mr. Wellendorf, we have had no further information from the commissioner as to the result of an additional survey being made," the letter declared. The association also contacted John A. Brislin, Monroe County Democratic chairman, who has cooperated in efforts to keep the barracks in Mount Pocono. Brislin said he would get in touch with State Democratic Chairman John S. Rice and enlist his support in the matter.

Attending the executive committee session were John M. Crandall, president; R. LeRoy Dengler, vice president; John F. O'Neill, executive secretary; Berne Cramer, member, and John Petrie, bank cashier.

Copies of the letter it sent to Gov. Lawrence were also mailed to Col. McCarthy, Sen. Scott, Rep. Van D. Yetter (D-Monroe) and The Daily Record.

Khrushchev To Present Disarmament Plan

Congressional Action Finished On Major Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev promised America and an uneasy world Wednesday he will lay a new proposal for disarmament before the United Nations Friday.

The leader of world communism withheld details. But he hinted that he has some cooperative approach in mind.

The Soviet Union and America, he said, must march side by side, each showing "more give," if the world is to avoid another colossal war that would cover it with ashes and graves.

Khrushchev urged "each side to meet the other halfway" in attempting to dispel the storm clouds between them.

Recognizing the importance of the German question as a point of East-West friction, the Premier said he has proposed, and still does, "that the independent existence of West Berlin should be insured by the most reliable guarantees known in international relations."

The Soviet Premier was making his first major address on American soil. The occasion: A luncheon given by The National Press Club, the Women's National Press Club and the Overseas Writers, with national radio-TV coverage. The place: The white and gold auditorium of the National Press Club, where a parade of the world's outstanding men have spoken in the past.

Sightseeing Tour

The bustling Khrushchev hurried from the luncheon to his waiting limousine and was off on a speed-run sightseeing tour of Washington.

Side by side, he and Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, head of the American delegation to the U.N., studied the great stone statue at the Lincoln Memorial.

Lodge read aloud the words on the wall: "With malice toward none, with charity toward all and with firmness in the right."

Even today, Lodge said, those words apply to the American people.

"Beautiful words," Khrushchev murmured.

Then it was off nonstop to the memorial to Jefferson on the bank of the Tidal Basin, on past the National Gallery of Art, back to the government's guest house for a short rest, and up to Capitol Hill for talk, coffee and sandwiches with Senate leaders and members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Khrushchev had been on the go since early morning, when he motored 20 miles into the rolling Maryland countryside to see some of the wonders at the Agriculture Department's experimental farm at Beltsville.

And he still arranged to play host Wednesday night at a dinner at the Soviet Embassy—with the chef and most of the food flown in from the Soviet Union—to President and Mrs. Eisenhower. That was in return for the state dinner the Eisenhower's tendered him and Mrs. Khrushchev Tuesday night.

Speaking a little more than 24 hours after his arrival from Moscow, the Premier told his audience at the press club and on national networks that on the basis of his first day of meetings and talks with Eisenhower, "the barometer shows 'fine.'"

Khrushchev bristled and burned at a couple of questions tossed his way in a no-holds-barred question and answer period.

The press club appearance was sandwiched between a trip 20 miles into Maryland, to the Agriculture Department's extensive experimental farm at Beltsville, and a session on Capitol Hill with Senate leaders and members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

There was even time for a bit of sightseeing, to such celebrated spots as the Lincoln Memorial and the National Gallery of Art, before Khrushchev turned host at a dinner at the Soviet Embassy in honor of the President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

Democrats Challenge GOP Bills

HARRISBURG (AP) — Senate Democrats Wednesday challenged the constitutionality of Republican bills to impose the 4 per cent sales tax on beer and liquor sales at the retail instead of the wholesale level.

Sen. Charles R. Weiner, Senate Democratic floor leader, noted all bills affecting revenue must originate in the House under the State Constitution.

He contended that the beer and liquor proposals are revenue legislation.

But the Republican majority ignored his challenge and moved the legislation into position for a possible final vote next week.

The GOP contends that the shift of collection of the tax from wholesale to retail sales would produce an additional 20 to 23 million dollars.

They also back a companion bill which would exempt laundry and dry cleaning from the sales tax. Democrats say that measure would cost 16 millions in revenue; the GOP says it would cost nine millions.

The Senate and House both adjourned until next Monday.

But the Republican majority immediately went back into budget sessions at the end of the regular meeting. They are attempting to pare between 56 and 63 million dollars from Gov. David Lawrence's $1,700,000,000 budget.

There were persistent reports that the GOP members were at odds over where cuts should be made. However, a GOP financial leader predicted the huge general appropriation bill would come to the floor next week.

"I think we will have it in shape by the middle of next week," said Sen. George B. Stevenson (R-Clinton). The GOP holds a 28-22 majority in the Senate.

Stevenson headed a special Senate subcommittee which made a detailed study of Lawrence's proposed budget. The GOP has estimated it will pare between 56 and 63 million dollars from it.

In other legislative developments:

Mass Transit—The Senate moved into position for final action next week legislation putting Allegheny County's privately owned transportation systems under a county transit authority.

Pennsylvanians Sing For Ike, Khrushchev

WHAT TYPE of American music most impressed Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev at the musicals presented Tuesday night at the White House by Fred Waring and the Pennsylvanians?

That question was put to a member of the group yesterday after the Pennsylvanians returned home, many of them to Shawnee-on-the-Delaware.

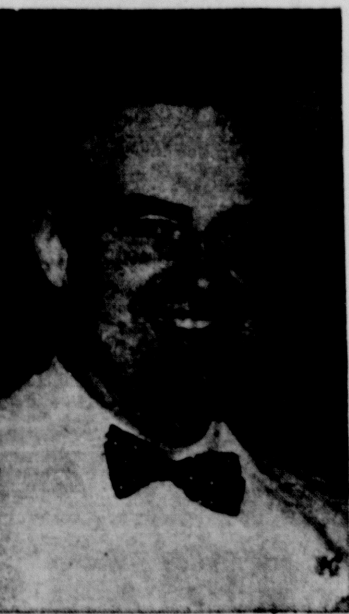

The Pennsylvanians presented a program entitled "Best Loved American Songs" at the close of a state dinner given by President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

The Russian leader, said the Waring spokesman, showed the greatest reaction when the Pennsylvanians played and sang "Dry Bones." Other songs featuring the louder, choral sounds also seemed to please Khrushchev and his wife.

The entire program was built around songs representative of this country — spirituals, folk numbers, religious and patriotic songs. They included hit tunes from "Showboat," "Foggy and Bess," "Carousel," "South Pacific" and other shows.

In typical Fred Waring style, the famous orchestra leader wound up the program by playing "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," giving the audience the opportunity to join in singing the last chorus.

The full Glee Club of 24 voices, plus the strings and rhythm section presented the music at the personal invitation of President Eisenhower.

Fred Waring

The Pennsylvanians have appeared at the White House on previous occasions, but to be selected to play at the state dinner which received world-wide attention was a highlight in the lives of many of the members, one of them said.

They also were thrilled after the performance when President and Mrs. Eisenhower greeted and thanked each of the Pennsylvanians. This occurred at a buffet dinner given for the group.

Among the performers from this area were Poley McClintock, veteran drummer; Dixie Waring, Fred Waring Jr., Leonard Kranendonk, Robert Kranendonk, Patty Beems, Marvin Long, Livio Giorgio and Gordon Goodman, all vocalists, and Hawley Ades, accompanist and arranger.

Mr. and Mrs. Waring were numbered among the 100 guests invited to the dinner. Also present were Vice President and Mrs. Nixon, leaders of the House and Senate, high government officials, prominent business, industrial and educational personalities, well known hosts Mrs. Perle Mesta and some 20 Russian officials.

Executives Of AFL-CIO Hint Support For Republican Candidates In 1960 Elections

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — AFL-CIO chiefs broadly hinted Wednesday they had support for a lot more Republican candidates in the 1960 elections than organized labor has been endorsing.

"One of the major problems in present day politics," the report said, "stems from the lack of party responsibility that is the principal characteristic of our political parties."

"Party labels tell nothing of the candidate's philosophy or proposed course of action, and party platforms are a poor guide to prospective performance by a party majority."

"For too many years the words 'a politician's promise' have been synonymous with deceit and insincerity."

Pledging stepped up labor that henceforth COPE intends to pay far more attention to choosing candidates dedicated to principles the unions believe in than to party labels.

"It requires merely more and continued application of the same patient determination that is today evident throughout our movement," they said.

Political impatience with Democratic leaders was especially strong among the AFL-CIO chiefs in the wake of passage of the new labor control law.

They privately centered much of their blame on Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.), the Senate majority leader, and House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.).

France Offers Voting Plan To Algeria

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle offered Wednesday night to let Algeria decide its own future by the vote of its people. Under his plan they could secede if they wanted to.

He said the people's decision would come at the test four years after peace is restored in the sprawling North African territory.

Algerian rebels and their supporters seemed unlikely to go for the De Gaulle plan. Their campaign for independence continued in the field and at the United Nations.

Presenting his plan for ending the nearly five-year-old Algerian rebellion, De Gaulle said Algeria could choose secession, integration with France, or autonomy supported by France.

De Gaulle, in a radio-TV speech to the nation, said certain people think they will find independence through secession and said if that path is chosen, France would leave Algeria.

Committee Acts On Red China

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Steering Committee Wednesday overrode Soviet objections and voted for a United States proposal to delay for another year the question of Red China's U.N. membership.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov declared that to put the issue before the 82-nation General Assembly would contribute to a relaxation of international tensions while Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was in the United States.

But the powerful committee voted 12-7 with one abstention to recommend that the Assembly postpone until next year any consideration of either admitting Communist China or excluding Chinese Nationalists.

Report Made On Work In Allentown

ALLENTOWN — Two former employees of William A. Donmoyer, Allentown Electrical contractor, appeared before the Allentown School Board solicitor, Martin Coyne, yesterday at 6 p. m. and gave testimony that Donmoyer's firm had done substantial work on the Allentown High School.

In his statement before the solicitor, Theodore Destan, of Zionsville, a former employee, said he had been directed to replace the main feeder wire from the boiler room to a panel located at the north end of the basement. He said when he attempted to draw the old wire from the conduits, the wire broke about one foot from the end. The old wire was permitted to remain, Destan said, and new wire was spliced on and permitted to remain.

Destan then told the solicitor that the old wire in a junction box in the boiler room had a lubricant applied to make it appear as if it had just been pulled into the conduits, but had other old wire spliced on and was left in the conduits.

Continuing in his testimony, Destan said a total of six 90-degree bends were placed in a conduit, which the state code says can only have four, and that the conduit is exposed throughout its length.

Destan's affidavit gave many similar examples of the firm's not replacing the old wiring with new, and said the entire project was done during the past summer.

George Wilson, business agent for the electrical workers union and for the Building Trades Council, requested that Coyne listen to the workers and their testimony.

Attending the meeting also was Clinton J. Leiby, state Building inspector, who was present with Coyne's permission, and under the orders of John Dwyer, head of the state Bureau of Inspections.

Donmoyer has been accused by Wilson of working his employees overtime on the East Stroudsburg Area Joint Junior-Senior High School building and paying them straight time. He has several affidavits from these men testifying of this action by the Donmoyer firm in connection with their pay.

Two meetings have been held thus far with East Stroudsburg Area Joint Building Authority, and the unit is in receipt of various documents concerning all the charges and counter-charges. When the authority has completed its study, a report will be made.

John McCoy To Receive Medal

A MEDAL for heroism will be presented to a local cub scout who saved a companion from drowning in the Delaware River a year ago Sept. 6.

John McCoy, nine-year-old Cresco scout, will receive the Army and Navy Legion of Valor's Silver Cross medal for heroism.

Harvey M. Possinger, 38, Stokes Mill Road, Stroudsburg, who won the Distinguished Service Cross during World War Two, recommended the boy scout to the legion.

H. Neil Jager, the legion's national commander and its award committee chairman, has just written Possinger that the recommendation was approved.

John held Bradley Shoemith above the surface of the river and pulled him to shore after Bradley chased a boat out to far from the shore.

He has already received a watch from the Pack and a certificate of merit at a special court of honor held Aug. 6 at Camp Weygand.

The Legion of Valor is made up of Congressional Medal of Honor, Distinguished Service Cross and Navy Cross winners. It provides scholarships to students as well as presenting its Silver Cross medal for lifesaving on rare occasions.

Possinger won his DSC on March 8, 1945, in the Philippines when, despite his own wounds, he evacuated eight wounded men pinned down by Japanese machine gun fire in a shell hole.

The Daily Record has been requested to present the award to McCoy at a time and place to be selected.

Further announcements on a program being planned by The Daily Record will be made in the near future.

HEADS UP POWER LINES CAN'T DUCK

Electricity, properly controlled is the world's best and cheapest servant . . . and is completely safe!

But, when people get careless, accidents can happen. When working on scaffolding or other high places, it's all too easy to contact power lines. When that happens, you've got trouble, real trouble!

Service can be interrupted to hundreds of electric users. Even worse, your life may be endangered.

Play it safe when working on scaffolding; stay clear of power lines. And, look up before moving any equipment or material. Treat all wires as "hot" — remember, you can't tell by looking.

Manhattan Concert Group Signed For Local Season

THE MANHATTAN Concert Orchestra has been announced as the first musical organization signed for a concert for the forthcoming 1959-1960 concert season of the Pocono Community Concerts Assn.

The orchestra is under the direction of Harry John Brown, former associate conductor of the Boston "Pops" orchestra, working with Arthur Fiedler.

This tour for the orchestra, its fourth, has been sold out completely.

Brown, the young conductor has an interesting background. His mother was prima ballerina with the Chicago Opera Co., and he displayed musical talent as a child, winning the New York Philharmonic Young Composers award at 16 and at 17 gaining the Eastman School of Music composition scholarship.

World War

During World War II he served as a front line interpreter, and also directed his regiment's choral group. He later conducted the famous GI Symphony orchestra.

Brown completed his work for a master's degree after the war at the University of Chicago, and spent his summers at Tanglewood studying under the late Serge Koussevitsky, conductor of the Boston Symphony.

The Manhattan's presentation will be given early next month in the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College auditorium, and will include popular classics and selections from operetta and musical comedy.

The only tickets will be through the season tickets for the entire Community Concert offering. Single tickets will not be sold.

Deserves Our Support

Monroe County boasts excellent schools, a fine library, an outstanding state teachers college, three playhouses, many well trained musical organizations and a new art center.

It's safe to say, then, that culture plays an important role in the lives of many county residents.

One of the most prominent groups interested in cultural music is the Pocono Community Concerts Assn., which year after year brings us the best we can afford from the American concert stage.

That this non-profit organization has succeeded in presenting only the highest type of artists available is evidenced by the many fine concerts it has presented before large local audiences.

The association this week is conducting its annual campaign for members. While it has no specified quota to fill, it's an established fact that the more money it collects in memberships, the more attractive will be the concerts it will be able to present this season.

One group of artists, the Manhattan Concert Orchestra, already has been signed. Three other concerts are planned.

Many of our people look forward to these entertainments each season, but they deserve even more support. It seems to us that, with the recent shift to scientific thinking in the space age, there is a greater need than ever before to devote more time to culture.

As someone said the other day, we spend so much time making a living that we don't enjoy the living we are making. We, in Monroe County, can help overcome that condition by joining the Pocono Community Concerts Assn. this week.

Red China's Position

Every once in a while, a personality appears in the United States Senate who immediately attracts attention by his unorthodox approach to current questions. Usually the unorthodoxy is on the liberal side, as, for instance, Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska or in the present Senate, Wayne Morse of Oregon.

In recent years, Joe McCarthy of Wisconsin, a Republican, ran away with the Senate and established a power that other Senators feared until they were able to break him.

Senator Thomas J. Dodd of Connecticut is an anomaly. He is a conservative Northern Democrat from a state which, in recent years, has produced only liberals, Republican and Democratic.

He won his election, despite the opposition of the Americans for Democratic Action which was assumed to be powerful in his state.

He took the Democratic Party of his state away from the forces of Benetton and Bowles who had established themselves as a political power.

Senator Dodd has built his reputation on anti-Communism in the United States and over the rest of the world. He has declined to compromise on this issue and therefore does not go along with the President or with the leadership of his own party on the Khrushchev visit.

He has familiarized himself with the Far Eastern situation and has been very critical of the invasion of Laos as well as the invasion of India were devised as warnings to show Khrushchev that if he attempts to make arrangements which are unsatisfactory to Peking, Mao sits in the driver's seat.

Theoretically, the foreign policy of all the Warsaw Pact nations is managed by the Kremlin. Red China has tended to require direct and personal conferences.

There can be little doubt and there is some considerable evidence that Soviet Russia has had to pay a heavy price, principally in capital goods, for Red China's concurrence in policy.

How long Soviet Russia is willing to be blackmailed by Red China is to be seen. Presently, there is no evidence that a split is in the offing.

Senator Dodd makes the point that if Khrushchev wishes to prove that he cannot control the course of events in Asia, he should not act as Mao's mouthpiece in the United Nations. Said Dodd:

"... If Khrushchev should reply that the events in Asia are beyond his control, then we should make him prove it by agreeing not to use the Soviet veto to block action by the United Nations Security Council."

If such a proposal were made to Khrushchev, he would indeed be in a difficult situation because he would either have to admit that Mao is running away from the Kremlin or that the Kremlin has agreed to act as Mao's mouthpiece.

Few members of the Senate seem to understand, as Senator Dodd does, that Red China's conduct on the eve of Khrushchev's visit to the United States is not casual; it is a well-planned, determined effort to prove that whereas Russia usually supports Russia's actions for the Soviet Union State, Red China declines to be ignored, must be consulted, must be included in decisions and can act on its own if necessary.

our inadequate policy toward Laos. He said of this:

"For weeks the State Department has been repeating that the United States has no bases in Laos in an apparent attempt to mollify the Communists. We have seemed overanxious to prove that the United States has only a small number of technicians and accountants in Laos.

"We have emphasized that our aid was only of the small arms variety and indicated that our aid would be limited in amounts and in kind.

"Our officials are quoted as saying that no thought was being given to action by the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

"And we have put out a lot of nonsense about not doing anything to violate the 'spirit' of the Geneva accords; which have already been torn up by the Communists; accords which would limit the military strength of Laos to an inadequate force armed with obsolete weapons; accords which the United States was never signatory to in the first place."

There can be no question but that the Laos situation is part of a policy devised by Mao Tse-tung of Red China to trip up Nikita Khrushchev during his visit to the United States.

All available evidence indicates that Laos as well as the invasion of India were devised as warnings to show Khrushchev that if he attempts to make arrangements which are unsatisfactory to Peking, Mao sits in the driver's seat.

Theoretically, the foreign policy of all the Warsaw Pact nations is managed by the Kremlin. Red China has tended to require direct and personal conferences.

Bright Future For Resort Industry

The resort industry is only in its infancy. There are much bigger and better things to come.

This is the feeling I had after a lengthy conversation with Peter Rossi, his son Gene, and son-in-law Steve Marciw, all of Pocono Gardens Lodge.

Rossi, who has constructed a fabulous resort since coming to the Poconos, has even bigger and better plans for the future.

According to the Cresco area resort owner, past triumphs don't mean a thing. "The future must be filled with improvements for the resort industry," he stated.

After talking to members of the Rossi family, one is assured that the possibilities of the Pocono Mountains have just been scratched. We haven't yet reached under the surface. The Poconos may be the resort center of the east when our network of new highways is completed. But, we must be ready to accept the title.

Improvements upon improvements is our key to success and this thought comes directly from Peter Rossi, a man who should know.

Opinions Of Other Editors

Test Of Power

The President's concern about the steel strike, now in its tenth week and with no settlement in sight, is certainly understandable. But we think part of his letter to the union and to the companies is somewhat unrealistic.

"This dispute," Mr. Eisenhower wrote, "is not a test of power. The people of the United States do not look to the economic strength of either side to govern the settlement."

Any strike, though, is almost bound to be a test of power. And in this case there is only one kind of power that makes such a strike even possible, much less a potential threat to the safety of the nation.

That is the monopoly power possessed uniquely by unions; the power used here as so often before to shut down the great bulk of an entire industry.

That done, the union employs its power to bargain "industry wide," and the companies have no choice but to line up together, or at least to try to do so for a while. The union's economic strength is such that it has won the substance of its demands in previous strikes, including the taking over of more and more of the prerogatives of management in operating the mills. This time the firms are trying to redress that balance to some extent, and for that reason any negotiating is unusually difficult.

Whatever one thinks of the merits of either side, it should be clear that, in the absence of the union monopoly power, a steel strike could not become a matter of grave national concern.

For in those circumstances it would be a strike of one union against one company—a serious matter to those involved but not a situation capable of harming the economy and security of the entire nation.

And sooner or later the entire nation, through Congress, will have to test the power that can do such harm.

The Pennsylvania Story

Third Longest

By Mason Duncan Harrisburg — Curiously perhaps it was just four years ago this week that the then 1955 session of Pennsylvania's Legislature — unknowningly of course at the time — reached its half-way point in what was destined to be the record-breaker in the Keystone State's long and oftentimes turbulent legislative history.

This week as the 1959 session grinds and groans through its ninth month of sessioning, many a lawmaker—veteran of that 17-month horn-locking affair in 1955—is casting a doleful eye at the distinction — if it can be called that — of being the third longest of record!

There is a striking parallel in circumstances behind backward glance, shuddering at the thought of what happened in that first year of the then new in office Democratic Leader Administration. Is it destined to happen again this session? The answer is no.

Another month or by the latter part of October at the latest should see Pennsylvania's 1959 session etched firmly in the pages of history.

Yet notwithstanding this probability it is worth noting that the current 1959 legislative session already has garnered the present legisla-

Abigail Van Buren

It's Been Done Before

Dear Abby: I eat in restaurants frequently and no not have a hearty appetite. The portions are always too much for me to eat at one sitting, so I am tempted to ask the waitress to please put my leftovers in a sack for me to take home. The food is good, and it seems a pity to waste it. Is this considered bad manners?

SMALL EATER

Dear Small: Not at all. I have done it on occasion. And I'm dog-goned if I will say, "It's for my dog!"

Dear Abby: After 24 years of marriage I got the shock of my life. I raised three boys to be men without any trouble and along comes my husband and tells me that my supposed-to-be best girlfriend is expecting in December and he is the father!

My girlfriend is 45 years old and has been married 26 years. She has five children of her own. Talk about a mess!

He says it is all my fault because I accused them of having a romance three years ago, so they decided to go ahead and have one. I don't know what to do. My husband wants me to stand by him. They haven't told the woman's husband yet. They both know what they were doing as neither one drinks. Can this be love?

NO NAME PLEASE

Dear No: This can't be love. But it could develop into a nasty scandal. Take the course that will hurt the fewest innocent people. To break up two families would be madness. Keep the whole sordid secret under your hats and arrange somehow to put as many miles as possible between your husband and this "friend." And the sooner the better.

Dear Abby: Tell me, please, how a boy can tell you in one breath that he loves you and then in the next breath say, "But I think we should break up because we are getting too serious?"

This is my problem. Dear Abby, I am 15 years old and he is 17 and we have gone steady for ten months. I know you are going to say that I am too young to know my own mind, but this is the boy I intend to marry.

How can I hurry things up? I am willing to quit school and go to work and let him finish High School. How can I get him to keep seeing me? I love him so much I don't think I could live without him.

SANDY

Dear Sandy: No wonder he is looking for an escape hatch! He senses your eagerness to get married and he is smart enough to know that he is much too young. He simply wants to find a way to drop you without hurting you. Finish your own education and don't crowd your young mind with thoughts of marriage now. You have much growing up to do.

Confidential To Dad Mother: Contact your local chapter of Association for Retarded Children. You will meet wonderful parents who share your problem and learn how to cope with it. Good luck.

Dear Abby: My neighbor never misses a single day to come to my house. She stays until just before my husband comes home for supper. If friends or relatives come from out of town, she stays here till they leave. I can't visit with them as she runs her mouth all the time talking about her family or her sickness. I have heard the same stories from her a hundred times.

My husband gets so mad at me for not going ahead with my work. But how can you work with that talking machine going every minute? Is there a way to get rid of her earlier? I don't like to break the friendship completely.

PESTERED

Dear Pestered: Be friendly but firm when you tell your neighbor that you have only so much time to visit with her. Set your timer (if you don't have one, use an alarm clock) and when it goes off — lead your neighbor to the door and see to it that she goes off.

If she hasn't sense enough to leave when you have guests and you haven't the courage to tell her you'd like some privacy, you'll have to put up with her.

It may become necessary that at some future time the nations of the earth divide the waters among them.

There are two limiting factors to the further development of this interesting study of the ocean. One has been the lack of money, which is now being furnished by the government and many of the foundations. The more pressing is the lack of competent trained scientists in the field.

Fifteen True Bills Returned By Monroe County's Grand Jury

Trials To Begin On September 28

A TOTAL of 15 true bills out of a total of 26 cases considered were found by the Monroe County Grand Jury meeting during the September term at the courthouse yesterday.

The jury presented the true bills to Judge Fred W. Davis shortly after 3 p. m. yesterday, having been considering the bills since 10:45 a. m. Tuesday.

True bills found included: Willard F. Kresge, Saylorsburg, failure to stop at the scene of an accident; Jack R. Kindrew, Saylorsburg, failure to stop at the scene of an accident; Jack D. Harrison, East Stroudsburg, license suspension; Courtland Keiper, East Stroudsburg, morals charge; John A. Sabatine, Stroudsburg, morals charge; Roy F. Peters, Coplay, morals charge; Carl A. Capone, Stroudsburg, morals charge; John M. Poplawski, Scranton, morals charge; Fred A. Gilbert, Tennessee, morals charge; Charles Getz, Jr., Brodheadsville, contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

William M. Seese, Canadensis, larceny; Joseph R. Shively, Tancredville, larceny; Ernest M. Bulz, East Stroudsburg, larceny; Gilbert Silfee, East Stroudsburg, assault and battery; Monas Fetterman, Canadensis, fraudulent conversion; Joseph Trinkle, Lehighton, burglary.

Nine Other Cases

Nine other cases were not found true bills, while in two cases the prosecutors failed to answer the summons given by the district attorney.

True bills were not found on the following cases and charges: Fred Frailey, Stroudsburg, involuntary manslaughter; Robert J. Hawk, Cresco, involuntary manslaughter; Peter Fish, East Stroudsburg, license suspension; Charles Getz, Jr., Brodheadsville, morals; LaMar Price, Stroudsburg, morals; Armen C. Gargone, Stroudsburg, larceny; William P. Gallagher, Tobyhanna, voluntary manslaughter; Wilmer Vogt and Kenneth Hardy, both of Cresco, violation of state liquor control laws, and Phyllis Diamond, Scranton, burglary.

In two cases, against Daniel Barr, Portland, morals charge and Walter Reed, Jr., East Stroudsburg, assault and battery charges, neither prosecutor appeared, so the cases were dropped.

District Attorney Detlef Hansen said last night he thought about six or seven of the cases would come up for trial.

During the Grand Jury's investigation, there were a total of 18 jurors sitting. Although 24 had originally been selected, six of these were excused by Judge Davis.

Hansen said a two thirds vote was necessary among the jurors to find a true bill on any of the cases.

Actual trial will begin on Sept. 28 for Monroe County.

State Okays New School For Bangor

BANGOR — The State Department of Public Instruction informed the Bangor Area Joint School Board by letter that it has approved the construction of a new senior high school for the area.

This was reported last night at a special meeting of the board by Merle Mabius, secretary.

In presenting the letter, it was noted that the cost of the building is not to exceed $1,830,000 for construction.

Also the annual rental fee shall not be more than $114,400 while the interest on bonds not more than four and one-half percent, and the life of the mortgage not more than 40 years.

Cost Figures

J. Charles Perry, vice president of Strueto Steel Sales Co., of Philadelphia, a subsidiary of United States Steel and builders of all-steel school buildings, told members of the board that a new section of the school law provides that school directors could accept single bids for the construction of school buildings.

This, he said, makes it possible for school boards to consider the construction of all-steel buildings.

He told the board a new senior high school building for the area can be built for approximately $1,300,000 complete and that an elementary building for Portland, Upper Mount Bethel and Lower Mount Bethel Townships could be built for $600,000.

Dr. Nicholas Cascario, president of the joint board, informed those present that the Bangor Borough School Board is seriously considering the pioneer construction of an all-steel elementary building in Bangor.

COMMITTEE — Mrs. Samuel O. Wells III's county White House Conference committee on resources for strengthening family life met last night at the Stroudsburg YMCA to draw up the report it will submit at the meeting of the full county committee on children and youth next Tuesday. Present were, seated from left, subcommittee chairladies Mrs. Harold S. Pond, housing, and Mrs. Robert R. Hellmann, parental counseling. Standing from left are Horace G. Walters, recreation, Mrs. Wells, and Dr. Lee Warren, encouragement of religious life. Mrs. Carroll All, head of the sub-committee on financial status, wasn't present for the picture. ## Grand Jury Reports On Building Needs

THE Monroe County Grand Jury reported to Judge Fred Davis yesterday, that while they had visited various of the county's properties following their checking cases yesterday, they had not been shown the new custodian's bungalow at the Monroe County Home.

They were asked by the jurist, after they reported to him on the properties; if they had been shown the new building and they said they had not.

In their report on the home, however, they said the building was clean, well kept and in good condition. They reported the first floor had recently been surfaced with plastic tile, and this material would be put on the second floor in the near future. At present there are 61 guests in the home, the group reported, with a waiting list of eight more.

There are now plans to rearrange the quarters in the building to accommodate these eight, it was reported.

The jury listed three invalid chairs, and 11 new beds as immediate needs for the home.

After they had visited the county jail, the group said the office, living room and kitchen are clean and neat, but they recommended that all cells be given a fresh coat of paint.

Commenting on the Tuberculosis Society office, the jury asked that the porch floor be painted, and floor coverings be placed in each of the rooms in the building.

As far as the courthouse was concerned, the jury said the library had recently been painted, and Courtroom Number Two is in good condition, but they said Courtroom Number One is in need of paint.

They pointed out that the Grand Jury room has several cracked walls, and a few chairs in the room need re-canning.

Aged Home Fund Climbs To $34,435

MONROE County Home Assn.'s dream of a debt-free Laurel Manor, the home for senior citizens, drew almost 11,000 steps nearer reality last night.

The sum of $10,935 in new contributions was reported in the association's capital funds campaign for $50,000 at the final report meeting held at Wyckoff's Tearoom, with President E. H. Wyckoff as host.

While the drive officially ended last night, the workers agreed to continue the solicitation on a clean-up basis as there are a number of outstanding pledges which have not been collected. Also, some new contacts have yet to be made.

Mrs. Frank S. LaBar, co-chairman, reported a total of $34,435 subscribed to date. That figure includes a $5,000 grant from the S. S. Kresge Foundation. The association qualified for the grant by raising a minimum of $27,000 during the drive.

Before the meeting, the association's board of directors met and accepted an offer which is expected to net as much as $1,500 for the home.

The offer was extended by the Pocono Community Chorus. It will present a concert at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College on Nov. 7, and turn the net proceeds over to the home association, according to a report given by A. W. Williams, a director.

Wyckoff announced he will appoint a committee from the association to work with the chorus in promoting the concert and in selling tickets.

Wyckoff also thanked the co-chairmen, Mrs. LaBar and Spencer C. Cramer, and the sponsors and directors for the "splendid effort" put forth during the drive.

The $50,000 was sought to free Laurel Manor of indebtedness and to make a number of necessary improvements, the leaders said. While the entire amount was not raised, they pointed out

Stroud Union High To Face New Overcrowding

STROUD Union School District's high school will face further over-crowding next Fall, but the district's elementary population will level off, Superintendent Earl F. Groner told the district school board last night.

With 1,174 students, including special education pupils, attending the high school now, an additional 75 can be expected next year, he said.

The high school building was built for 950, with no facilities for the Hamilton Township and Mount Pocono borough secondary students who have subsequently started using the building, he said. The district's seventh grade, at 295, is the largest ever this year.

Groner stressed the need for three additional classrooms in the basement of the high school by next year. Board members agreed that the population problem will probably be alleviated when a new county parochial school opens.

Further Groner reported there were 1,727 elementary school pupils this Fall, compared to 1,772 a year ago. The first grade throughout the district's seven elementary buildings has 256 and the kindergarten 257. But he expects only about 220 of the kindergarten children to go on to first grade here next year, Groner said.

Over-crowded conditions exist in the fourth grade at Hamilton School where one teacher has 45 pupils who cannot be transported to one of the other buildings, he said.

Small classrooms create a problem for the sixth grade at Ramsey school where two teachers have 74 students.

High School Principal Alfred Munson said that although the new eight-day period provides more class meeting times for the increased enrollment this year, it leaves too much free time to the students. They are required to take five courses.

It is the association's intent that Laurel Manor shall pay its own way in its day-by-day operations.

that, with the monies still to come in, enough is being subscribed to put the home on a sound financial basis.

In other business the district board voted to let Stroud Township Tax Collector Myrtle Angle grant a full 60-day discount period to taxpayers from the date they received their 1959 bills.

Although the Stroud Township tax bills were dated Aug. 1, the tax collector did not receive her books until late August and did not mail her bills until Sept. 1. Board approval extending the discount and penalty deadlines a month was dependent on similar approval by the township supervisors and the county commissioners.

Board members voiced concern over a letter from the county saying a portion of all tax money paid under protest to the district by appealing taxpayers must be held in an escrow account until the appeals are disposed.

The board, which is operating on a tight budget this year, instructed its solicitor to find out how many district taxpayers have appealed.

Long Delay In Filing For Support

A CASE of confusion was compounded in Monroe County Court yesterday during a hearing into an alleged non-support suit brought by Lela Baker, of New York State, against Herman Baker, East Stroudsburg.

Baker said he had married Mrs. Baker in 1914, but left her in 1933. Mrs. Baker's papers filed showed Baker had left her in 1930. This is the first time she has applied for support money.

Review Order

Judge Davis ordered copies of the testimony of the hearing be sent to the district attorney in New York State for review.

In other action, Judge Davis ordered James Wraner, 21, of East Stroudsburg, back to Monroe County Jail to finish an original four to 11-month sentence.

Probation officer Henry McCool said Wraner had not paid on his fine since Dec. 1958.

Unscheduled Plane Ride

OTTAWA (AP) — Mrs. Alfred Sadler went for her first plane ride last weekend but she hadn't planned it that way.

She was looking over the inside of the Soviet TU104B, which was open for public inspection at Uplands Airport. She suddenly found herself locked in with a group of news people and Soviet officials. The ramp was moved and the jet was off for Toronto.

Mrs. Sadler got back home okay but reported she felt "like a heel . . . when I wasn't invited."

Where Do Good Teachers Go?

Many are leaving the campus for jobs in industry. Not because they want to . . . but because it's the only way they can make both ends meet.

This is an alarming trend! If it continues, our children can look forward at best to a second rate education. And, by the same token, it bodes ill for our country.

Won't you help in this crisis? Support the college of your choice. Help it to pay competent teachers a respectable salary. The rewards will be greater than you think.

Congress Completes Legislation

the National Interstate and Defense Highway System. For the 21 months between Oct. 1, 1959, and June 30, 1961, the bill raised the Federal gasoline tax by 1 cent a gallon (upping it from three cents to four cents a gallon). For the three succeeding fiscal years (fiscal 1962-64), the bill provided that five percentage points of the Federal excise tax on new cars and five percentage points of the Federal excise tax on auto parts and accessories be diverted from the Treasury's general fund to the Highway Trust Fund, which finances the Interstate System.

Hawaii — President Eisenhower Aug. 21 signed the proclamation formally admitting Hawaii into the Union as the 50th state. Hawaii's new Congressional delegation was sworn in Aug. 24.

Housing — After three tries, Congress in 1959 passed a bill. President Eisenhower is expected to sign into law. The third bill (S 2634) adds new money to such continuing programs as urban renewal and public housing and liberalizes down payments on FHA-insured home mortgages.

Inter-American Bank — President Eisenhower Aug. 7 signed a bill (S 1928 — PL 147) authorizing U.S. participation in a new, $1 billion Inter-American Development Bank to bolster the economy of Latin America.

Interest Rates — The Senate and House Sept. 12 approved the conference report on a bill (HR 9035) permitting the President to increase the rate of interest on Series E and H Government savings bonds from the existing 3.25 percent limit to a new "ceiling" of 4.25 percent. The Treasury had announced it intended to boost the rate to 3.75 percent, retroactive to last June 1.

Interstate Taxation — Congress Sept. 3 cleared for the President, who was expected to sign it, a bill (S 2524) to permit states to tax interstate businesses. Under the bill, the only interstate firms that could not be taxed by the states were those whose sole business in the state was to solicit orders that were to be filled from outside the state.

Labor Reforms — President Eisenhower Sept. 14 signed the Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure Act of 1959 (S 1553). The bill required 50,000 unions, 500,000 union officials and about 100,000 employers to file annual reports with the Secretary of Labor on a wide variety of financial practices. The bill also outlawed misuse of unions funds and labor-management bribes; barred convicts from union office, and set Federal standards for union elections and trusteeships. Taft-Hartley Act amendments requested by the President and included in the bill allowed the states to handle "no man's land" labor disputes; closed secondary boycott "loopholes;" outlawed hot cargo contracts and put limited curbs on organizational and recognition picketing.

Life Insurance Taxes — President Eisenhower June 25 signed into law (PL 86-69) a bill (HR 4245) providing a new, permanent formula for Federal taxation of life insurance companies. The new formula was expected to bring in $500 million more in Federal taxes on life firms' 1958 income than the taxation law it replaced. The bill provided for taxation of net income investment and, for the first time, of capital gains and underwriting profits.

State Calls For Bids

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Forests and Waters Department recently called for bids Oct. 14 on construction of a bypass channel for Old Dam Creek in Dickson City, Lackawanna County.

The channel would divert the creek from a breach in the present flood levees along the Lackawanna River and a nearby tributary.

Apples With Stems Last Longer In Home Storage

PICKING APPLES — If you're a home gardener who raises apples in the backyard you'll be interested to know that in picking, the stems should be left on the fruit. Apples with stems left on last longer. When you pick an apple, don't tear the stem off in the process, you break the skin and make the fruit susceptible to rot.

Stem pulls are much more apt to stimulate decay than many so-called "rots" that develop in storage. In some states, apples from which the stems have been pulled are considered culls.

A simple way to pick apples is to raise the fruit to one side with the fingers and twist the wrist. If apples are hard to pick, the end of the thumb or forefinger should be placed against the stem at the point where it is attached to the fruit spur or twig.

When you twist the fruit off you prevent breakage of the fruit spurs. When apples are yanked off, quite often some of the spurs come off with them, thereby reducing the crop for next year.

Tomatoes — All in all, it's been a good year for tomatoes. In dry areas we received complaints from gardeners who had blossom-end rot at the base of the fruit. However, one of the most common complaints came from eager gardeners who wanted an early crop of tomatoes, and who resorted to the popular variety called Fireball.

We've been working with Fireball and have been in close touch with the firm which produced this fine early tomato. For the benefit of gardeners who plan to grow it next year, I'd like to pass along a few tips about Fireball, an extra early tomato.

Fireball has a low yield, small fruit size and comparatively poor outside color. To get more fruits from your garden you must plant plants closer, one and one-half feet apart, or 7,000 per acre, instead of the usual 3,000.

You should feed them plenty of nitrogen two weeks after transplanting, and the plants should be young and tender, with no flowers. Hardened plants do poorly. The soil must have good water-holding capacity to prevent check in growth, and you should start spraying soon after transplanting.

If you cannot take the time to follow these steps, my advice is to stay away from Fireball and grow a tomato that's less quirky, such as Moreton Hybrid, John Baer, Red Jacket or Homestead.

Fireball matures two weeks earlier than most varieties, but its growth habits must be understood before you can successfully grow this dwarf-vined tomato.

Dance Classes To Be Held At Barrett

MOUNT AINHOME — The Barrett Branch YMCA announces that starting next Tuesday, Karen Roth will instruct in all types of dance at the Barrett Y. This will include ballet, toe, tap, creative, and modern jazz.

Children's classes will be geared to their age level and individual capacities. Music appreciation and rhythm training will be taught in all classes, and at the same time the student will learn posture, grace, and self expression.

The schedule for the Barrett Y is as follows: From 2 p. m. to 3 p. m., there will be a class for women on ballet and ballet exercise.

From 3 p. m. to 4 p. m., the preschool children will have their instruction, while the school-age students will have their lesson from 4 p. m. to 5 p. m.

At 6:30 p. m. an adult ballroom dancing class will be started.

Mrs. Roth is well known locally as both a performing artist and teacher. She is a certified member of the Dance Educators of America and an executive associate of the Dance Guild of New York. Mrs. Roth has studied under some of the nation's foremost teachers and received her teacher's training at New York University Graduate Dance Department.

Question Box

S. H. of Blakeslee: Our poinsettia plant has been outdoors all summer. I brought it inside as you suggested. Now what care does it need?

If you want the plant to blossom for you at Christmas, it'll have to be put on a short-day, long-night schedule, starting now. In the subtropics nature takes care of this by providing the short days and long nights required, but in a living room that's lighted, the plant is likely to get just the reverse and will be retarded.

So you should limit the poinsettia's day to about 10 hours and "put it to bed" for the rest of the night. Even a very minute but continuous light will delay flowering, so a dimly lit hall will not be dark enough.

During the day this gay Christmas plant needs a fairly high and uniform temperature. If you want it to flower for the holidays, try to maintain a temperature of around 70 degrees by day and around 60 degrees at night. It needs full sun indoors.

If your plant is tall and ungainly, don't try to cut it back now as it will be too late for Christmas. You can shorten a tall poinsettia using a trick florists use. It's known as "bending" or "folding" of stems.

It takes experience to do the trick, but with practice you can do it. The time to fold or bend the stems is from Nov. 15 to Dec. 1. The stem has to be just at a certain hardness, not too soft and not too hard or it will break.

D. G. of Stroudsburg: "We planted a California privet hedge in late spring. It is growing vigorously. When should it be pruned to encourage thick growth?"

Normally, privet should be shaped in spring, again in June or July and again later as required. There are some who believe that pruning or shearing should stop before September, since new growth may not have a chance to properly mature before freezing weather sets in.

This isn't too serious a problem with hedges. If your hedge needs shearing, go ahead and shear even at this late date, because if the new growth that may come happens to winter-kill, you'll still have plenty coming on again in spring.

Mrs. Clara Sinclair of Stroudsburg and her Canadian guests, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fyfe, were dinner guests at the home of Miss Nellie Burd recently.

Mrs. Estella Bishong spent several days recently with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Bishong of Stroudsburg.

A recent supper picnic gathered together on the Phil Farber lawn Mr. and Mrs. Phil Farber Jr. and son, Philip; Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Margretta and their guest and Janice, Christine and Peter Margretta; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Miller and Mrs. Stanley Sells, Mrs. Clarence Newhart and Miss Judy Randt.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Martin motored up from Fort Worth, Texas to spend about two weeks with Mr. Martin's mother and step father, Mr. and Mrs. John Jones. While here they accompanied the Jones to Massachusetts to visit relatives, and also made a trip to Philadelphia. Mr. Martin has finished military service and is planning to enter college in Texas.

Taxpayers Need Consent To Withdraw

STATE Sen. Fred B. Rooney said that Northampton County Legislatures told representatives of the Upper Mount Bethel Taxpayers' League in Harrisburg Tuesday that the township can leave Bangor Area Joint School System only if the other five school districts agree.

Led by Association Vice-President Orton Hartley, the five-man delegation went to the state capital to further its fight to withdraw from the one-year old jointure.

That the rest of the jointure would allow the township to withdraw was regarded as a vain hope, however, since the other districts and even the township's own school board are against such a move.

The taxpayers association claims the jointure is making excessive financial demands on the township taxpayers and at the same time not meeting their immediate school needs.

The association contends that an other elementary school, not the new high school planned by the jointure, is needed first.

Speaker Tells Of Fading Fossil Fuels

DR. GLENN W. Giddings, a noted physicist, warned yesterday the fossil fuels, our main sources of energy, are not inexhaustible and we will be forced to turn to other sources in the not-too-distant future.

Half of the oil and natural gas the world has ever used has been expended in the last decade, the speaker warned at yesterday's meeting of the Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club. He is a consultant in educational relations for General Electric Co. Coal, the third main fossil fuel, will not run out as fast as gas and oil, he said.

As supplies of these non-replaceable fuels dwindle further, we will have to find other sources of energy. At present, Dr. Giddings observed, our chief hopes lie in the conversion and utilization of solar energy and in the fusion of atoms (atomic power).

The speaker also showed by statistics how the application of science to industry had brought about a tremendous increase in the progress of mankind in the last 300 years.

Technological progress doubles every 12 years, he said, and added the astonishing prediction that the electrical industry alone will install as much new equipment in the next 10 years as it did in the past 50 years. A tremendous supply of energy will be needed to permit the development of science, the speaker noted.

Dr. Giddings was introduced by Dr. LeRoy J. Koehler, president of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College. Dr. W. R. Erickson was program chairman.

John E. Watt, president, appointed a nominating committee consisting of Elwood Hintze, D. A. Hansen and William Wells to select a slate of officers for the coming year and report during the first week in October.

Committee To Catalog Information

ARE various clubs and organizations in this area overlapping in their efforts to provide educational, recreational, and employment opportunities for Monroe County's youth and children?

This question was raised at a recent White House Conference committee meeting headed by Chairman Dr. John A. Abbruzzese, Jr., to determine what the county has to offer in these three categories.

Mrs. Marcia Clapp DeRocco, committee member, offered the services of the Pocono Art Center's Education Committee to catalog this information.

The only hitch — the committee doesn't have any of this information yet. Yesterday Mrs. DeRocco sent out a plea to all clubs — church, service, school, scout and social — to let the Pocono Art Center know by mail of all its past and present activities for child and youth education, employment and recreation.

The second hitch — this information must be compiled by the Center's Education Committee before next Tuesday when the County Committee on Children and Youth meets at the Penn-Stroud Hotel to draw up reports.

The requested information will not only be used for the White House Conference report here in the county, Mrs. DeRocco said, but it will be analyzed and recorded for future use.

"If all clubs will just write down their current and past programs on a postcard and mail them to the art center immediately, they will be doing the county a vital favor," she said.

Injuries Treated At Monroe County General Hospital

LUCY PATTI, 14, was wrestling with a friend when she fell on her outstretched hand. X-rays at the Monroe County General Hospital Dispensary revealed no fractures and she was treated for a sprain.

Marshall Rehm, Stroudsburg

RD 2, reported to the dispensary with a painful right knee. He said he landed on it when he fell off a truck while working. The doctors found no contusions of the knee.

Hilda Smith, East Stroudsburg RD 3, was hit in the left ankle by a bicycle. Examination showed a mild sprain of the ligament.

The dispensary treated Robert Shanton, Brooklyn, N. Y., for a fractured right wrist.

Marian Altomose came to the dispensary with her right little finger injured. Three stitches were necessary. X-rays also revealed a fracture.

Vilma Hartman was treated for a nail wound of the foot, and Mrs. Frances Keiper, Mount Pocono for a similar puncture in her right thumb.

Just Between Us — —

—by Bobby Westbrook

If there was more than a faint scent of mothballs in the air yesterday, it's no wonder. Nobody really believed the cold would last so long after the early September heat but yesterday, ready or not, they had to get into something warmer.

Women sat with unaccustomed dignity in girdles which somehow seemed to have shrunk since last Spring. They also sat with their legs tucked under the chairs since stockings kept in bureau drawers have a tendency to spring runs the first time they're worn.

But cold or no cold, there's no mistaking that Fall is just around the corner. In fact, socially speaking, it's here. Usually, September can be counted upon when organizations back and fill and get up steam.

But not this year. They're not even waiting for the word "Go" to go pounding down the tracks, with bells ringing and whistles blowing.

However, many of the members took time out yesterday to listen to the Press Club questions and Khrushchev. I got fascinated watching Mrs. Khrushchev and wondering whether, like American wives, she ever upbraided him afterward for being untruthful or telling a story she didn't approve of.

It seemed impossible to tell from her reactions. The only visible one was laughter when he said "when the peasants and workers of the United States—" and then hastily corrected it to—"of China."

Well, fellow peasants and workers, looks as if we gotta get busy.

Homemakers' Tips On How To Save On Canned Goods

By Margaret MacLaren
Monroe Co. Home Economist
This is the time of year when you can often make big savings in canned goods. During the past few weeks retailers have been offering "specials" on canned fruits and vegetables. The processing industry made up of canners, brokers, distributors, wholesalers, and retailers put on a big promotional effort in September.

How Savings Are Passed On
Because the canning season is very short, supplies mount up rapidly. In order to start the new pack through distribution channels, price concessions are often made all along the line down to the food shopper.

Then too carry over stocks of last year's pack on some items may be greater than normal and in order to make room for the new pack, prices are lowered.

Another form of savings may come in the lesser known labels. These are labels you may never have seen before. How does this happen? Let's say a processor has contracted for this year's supply of a certain commodity. He packs what the buyers want—the number of cases and the grade—and at the end of the processing he has some left over. Or a small processor's volume is not large enough to be featured in a supermarket year round. Local brands that show up during the fall and early winter can be of as good a quality as nationally advertised brands.

Labels Tell A Story
Find out what is inside the can by developing the habit of label reading. Let the label serve as a window for the can to help you select the best product for your intended needs. Labels are backed by laws and standards established by the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act for foods that cross state lines. The requirements make sure that the consumer knows what she is paying for and the quality of the product selected.

Information required by the F. & D. A. is the name of the product, net weight or volume, name and address of the producer or distributor, and list of ingredients.

Some labels carry additional information such as the style of pack, size of product, measurement in cups or number of pieces. A picture of the pro-

Morey PTA Opens New School Year

The September meeting of the Morey Parent - Teachers Assn. this week was highlighted by a talk by Chaplain Francis Patterson of the Tobihanna Signal Depot. Capt. Patterson stressed the importance of "knowing ourselves and extending the courtesy of understanding to each other."

Complete empathy of parents and children is of prime importance, he said, in helping children to attain their highest potentials.

Mrs. R. D. Everitt presided at a business meeting. She announced that enrollment is now open for the Elementary Curriculum Committee which meets monthly with Roger Dunning, elementary supervisor. It was announced that business at all regular PTA meetings will be limited to 30 minutes.

The informal dessert meeting was under the direction of Mrs. Clyde Burke and Mrs. J. Joseph McCluskey, program co-chairmen. Hostesses were Mrs. William Taylor and Mrs. Samuel Bittenbender.

There were 70 members and guests present for the meeting.

The Baby's Named!

Mr. and Mrs. W. Roy Williams of Canadensis announce the birth of their second daughter on September 10 at 7:00 a.m. at Mercy Hospital in Scranton. Her birth coincided with her parents' fourth wedding anniversary. She weighed seven pounds 14 1/2 ounces and has been named Judy Yenne. Her sister, Jeanne Louise, is 26 months old. Her mother is the former Patricia McCain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McCain, of 415 Shook Ave., Stroudsburg. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Wilton R. Williams of Skytop. Great grandmothers are Mrs. Lizzie Marean of East Stroudsburg and Mrs. Katurah McCain, also of East Stroudsburg.

During the social hour, music was supplied by Numa Snyder of Stroud Union High School, and there was an exhibition of salon photographic prints of children arranged by Clyde Buks, public relations director of the Tobihanna Signal Depot.

Marriage Licenses

Marriage license applications were made in the office of N. Henry Fenner, Monroe County Prothonotary, by:
Cecil B. Slayler and Patricia B. Webb, both of Ledgewood, N. J.
Wilbur J. Whitehouse and Carolyn J. Smith, both of Pocono Pines.

Guild Urged To Share Reading Material

The power of the printed word and the good accomplished by sharing letters, books, magazines and literature with shut-ins, missions and hospitals was stressed in the talk which Mrs. John O. Lieb Jr. of Allentown gave at the opening meeting of St. Mary's Guild of Christ Episcopal Church.

It was a dinner meeting held at the Penn-Stroud Hotel with the invocation given by Rev. Charles A. Park and Mrs. W. E. Andrew presiding at the business session.

Mrs. Leib is chairman of the Church Periodical Club of the Diocese of Bethlehem.

Mrs. A. Starr Phelps, president of the auxiliary, announced the program for the Hawthorne Conference to be held at Trinity Church, Mount Pocono, on September 28 and 29. Mrs. Phelps also showed the children's dresses she is making for the benefit of the auxiliary.

Other activities on the Fall calendar of the guild include:

A one-day trip to the Convent of St. Helene at Newburgh, N.Y. next Tuesday. Members wishing transportation or to register a car were asked to call Mrs. Andrew.

A food and bake sale will be held at Wyckoff's store on this Saturday with Mrs. Durell Mader and Miss Lucie Girard as co-chairmen.

The Fall rummage sale will be held October 8, and 10 at 314 Main St., with Mrs. Roy Houser and Mrs. Edwin Oettel in charge.

The Fall luncheon and gift sale will be held in the parish hall on November 10.

Stork Shower Is Held For Mrs. Phillips

A stork shower was held in honor of Mrs. Robert Phillips at the home of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Raymond Phillips, 1118 Greenway Ave. It was a surprise party with the gifts arranged in a car bed decorated with streamers.

Refreshments were served and games were played with refreshments going to Gwen Peckman and Cheryl Decker.

In addition to the guest of honor, Donna Phillips, guests also included Carol Hilliard, Shirley Applegate, Marguerite Bachman, Mrs. Willard Strauss, Grace Treible, Dorothy Miller, Mrs. Russell Doll, Joyce Warner, Donna Fredericks, Mrs. Edith Carretta, Mrs. Catherine Phillips and Mrs. June Decker. Mrs. Doris Rei shand Mrs. Emma Butz also sent gifts.

The parents are free at any time to consult with the school on the results of the testing program, he said. Parents are notified when specific consultation times have been set up when they may make appointments, but they may make appointments at any time.

PTA officers hailed the first orientation program for parents as a success and plan to repeat it next year.

200 Parents Attend Junior High School Briefing

Some 200 parents of seventh grade students were initiated into the mysteries of high school life at the first orientation program for parents sponsored by the Stroud Union High School this week.

Attendance, schedules and testing were among the topics discussed by school administrators.

Samuel Wells, III, assistant principal, outlined the legal and moral aspects of absences, warned parents that the school authorities do check up on absences and listed the legal reasons for non attendance.

More than half of the student body is transported by bus, he pointed out, with some 600 or 32 percent involved. The transportation system has its problems, he said, but pointed out that no student in the district has to walk more than a half mile for transportation.

The new eight-period day provides 1000 classroom spaces compared to 875 otherwise available. Principal Alfred Munson pointed out. He also discussed the marking system where reports are sent home after each of the four periods. Warning slips are sent to parents between marking periods for students in danger of failing, he said.

The administration is still working on the problem of making club activities possible for all of its students, he said. The system, tried last year, in providing bus transportation for students wishing to remain for club activities after school, had not proved feasible, he announced.

The formal testing program was explained by Raymond Serfass, guidance counselor. A formal testing program is carried on for all seventh grade students, he said, including achievement tests, reading aptitude tests and the California Mental Maturity Test.

The program is followed up by the eighth grade by tests for occupational interests, occupational aptitude, algebra aptitude and language prognosis tests. In addition, eighth grade students meet with Serfass in a guidance class and also have time for individual conferences.

The parents are free at any time to consult with the school on the results of the testing program, he said. Parents are notified when specific consultation times have been set up when they may make appointments, but they may make appointments at any time.

PTA officers hailed the first orientation program for parents as a success and plan to repeat it next year.

AAUW Sets Opening Meeting

The opening meeting of the local branch of the American Assn. of University Women will be held on Monday night October 5 at 7 p.m. in the form of a dessert meeting at the Stroud Community House.

Special guests at the meeting will be prospective members. At the meeting of the executive board at the home of the president, Mrs. Jack Lantz, Brown St., East Stroudsburg, this week, Mrs. Lee Koehler, chairman of membership, announced that the membership is open to all women who have graduated from colleges accredited by the national AAUW.

There was a large attendance of board members. Reports were given by program chairman, Mrs. Harold C. Edwards.

Miss Katharine MacFarland announced the meeting of the Great Books Club to be Tuesday, September 29 at the college with memberships to close by the second Tuesday in October.

The Crafts group will meet on Thursday, September 24 at the home of Mrs. Nicholas Stowell. Women interested in joining the group should call her to find out what material to bring.

By CHICK YOUNG

NOW IS THAT TIME of the year where we grab a crystal ball, open our eyes wide, and then come up with the "right" scholastic and collegiate football picks of the week.

Before we get into the first selections, it would be a good idea to inform all that we know little or nothing about how good or how bad the respective teams are.

Our only source of information has been the coaches themselves. And for those who don't know football tutors let us say the mentors retorts are far from enlightening at this stage of the season.

Unless you catch a coach off-guard he will always pour tears and retort, "we'll be lucky to make a first down this season."

However with a little bit of info picked up from the respective teams' diaries who have watched the squads drill daily, and from the wee bit of pessimism offered by the coaches we'll go along with the following eleven this week.

East Stroudsburg Teachers Over Kutztown — A new coach—John Gregory—with new systems—T and I formations—has instilled spirit on the hill which has been lacking for quite a spell. This "new look" of ESSTC should provide Gregory with a win in his inaugural. Kutztown has been tabbed as one of the teams to beat in the Pennsylvania Teachers Football Conference. Can't see the Golden Avalanche getting off on the right foot the way the Warriors are hustling for Gregory and his aides these days.

Stroudsburg High Over Lehigh — The Mountaineers always seem to have the Indian Sign on the Indians. This year should be no exception as Walt Bjorn's charges, led by two good backs in Billy Schoonover and Davey O'Connor, hand Bjorn a victory. Lehigh won its first game a week ago but it was over an undermanned Jim Thorpe eleven. The Mountaineers have the offense. It will be up to the defense to minimize Lehigh.

East Stroudsburg High Over Slatkinton — Jack Kist apparently has his offense starting to click and with his expected strength from the defense, the Cavaliers will be out to continue its spell over Slatkinton. The Slaters, winners in their opener against Coplay last week, are a veteran-dotted eleven. However, the calibre of ball exhibited by Eastburg is much better than the Wildcats. We look for some good running from the unheralded Cavalier backs, as the answer to opening triumph.

Bangor High Over Parkland — Dahey Pritchard lost a great all-around back in Frankie Butz but word from the State Belt indicates that the Maroon is loaded for bear this year. Anchored by a behemoth-like line, Bangor will prove to be too tough for the Trojans.

Pius X Of Roseto Over St. Michaels of Scranton — The Royals from the State Belt will actually come into its own this season as Coach Vince Shemanski guides a letterman-dotted eleven. Reports have it that Pius X will be in high gear all season unless injuries cripple the veteran but depth-lacking team.

Bethlehem High Over Eastern Of Washington, D. C. — They just don't play the same type of ball in the nation's capital as in the Lehigh Valley.

Allentown Dieruff Over Farrell — Who knows what about whom.

Emmaus Over Quakertown — It isn't only the Quakers who don't like Hornets.

Catasauqua Over Coplay — We'll wager our home on this.

Nazareth Over Hellertown — Heads Hellertown, tails Nazareth. It turned up tails.

Bishop Egan Over Notre Dame Of Easton — Even the firing of the Irish's coach after the first game won't help ND's cause.

Muhlenberg Twp. Over Whitehall — The Zephyrs already had the "Z" taken out of them. This week the "E" will go.

Palmerton Over Jim Thorpe — This is supposed to be a pretty fair Blue Bomber team this year now that basketball players can go out for football.

Bucs, Cubs Split Pair

CHICAGO (AP)—Vern Law won his 17th game and Bob Friend lost his 18th Wednesday as the Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago Cubs split a double-header.

The Pirates won the first 3-2 and the Cubs captured the second 4-2 on catcher Sammy Taylor's 11th homer with one on and nobody out in the ninth.

It was a 2-2 standoff going into the ninth when Irv Noren opened with a single. Lou Jackson ran for Noren and scored ahead of Sammy Taylor, who pumped his homer into the right field seats on Elston's third Cub pitcher, his eighth win. He has lost seven.

The Cubs scored single runs in the third and eighth, getting the second when Ernie Banks doubled for his 136th run batted in. The Pirates got both their runs in the sixth. Dick Stuart singled for one and catcher Snooky Burgess delivered a sacrifice fly for the second.

In the opener the Pirates scored a run apiece in each of the first three innings to hand the 12-game winning Bob Anderson his 11th loss.

(First game)
Pittsburgh 111 000 000—3 8 1
Chicago 100 010 012—2 9 1
Law and Burgess; Anderson, Elston (8) and Taylor, W-Law (17-9). L—Anderson (12-11).
Home run—Pittsburgh, Mazeroski (6).

Second Game
Pittsburgh 000 002 000—2 9 0
Chicago 001 000 012—4 10 0
Friend and Burgess, Folles (6); Johnson, Henry (6), Elston (8) and S. Taylor, W—Elston (8-7). L—Friend (8-19).
Home runs—Chicago, S. Taylor (1).

Share Retires

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Charley Share of the St. Louis Hawks announced his retirement from pro basketball Wednesday shortly after learning Hawks' owner Ben Kerner put him on the trading block.

Coe Leading 'Ams' Grid Predicting Tougher Than Reaching The Moon

'58 Runnerup Also Gains In U. S. Open

By FRANK PITMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.

(AP)—Favorite Charlie Coe, on target for a second straight title, and Tommy Aaron, last year's runner-up, showed the way through the third round of the U.S. Amateur Golf Tournament Wednesday.

They advanced with 30 other golfers into the fourth round over the 7,013yd. par 71 Broadmoor course in the foothills of the Rockies.

Coe, Oklahoma City oil broker, disposed of Robert Batdorf II, Hershey, Pa., 3 and 1. Aaron, 22, Gainesville, Ga., shot some of the day's finest golf in conquering Neil C. Croonquist, Hopkins, Minn., 4 and 3. Aaron was three under par.

E. Harvie Ward Jr., San Francisco's two-time champion of this tourney, stayed in the running with a 7 and 6 triumph over Payne Palmer III, Phoenix, Ariz.

Dick Chapman, 48, another former champion from Osterville, Mass., was sidelined by John Konsek, Big Ten titleholder from Purdue University, 2 up.

Konsek was one down to Chapman at the turn. He squared the match with a birdie 3 on the 40th yard 10th. Konsek, hitting every green with deadly accuracy, settled the issue with a par 4 on the 15th where Chapman missed a 4-foot putt.

Aaron, senior at Miami (Fla.) on the greens in thrashing Croonquist. Aaron dropped a 40-foot putt on No. 7, a 30-footer on No. 6 and a 10-footer on the ninth to go 4 up at the turn.

Pvt. Phil Rodgers, La Jolla, Calif., 1958 collegiate champion, fired a three under par 33 for the front nine in the third round. Rodgers slipped one over par on the 10th and 11th hole but returned to par golf the rest of the way for a 3 and 2 triumph over Jim Bourne of Seattle.

STROUDSBURG Little League will hold its annual banquet at the Stroudsburg Methodist Church, Thursday night, Oct. 1.

The fete is sponsored by the LL's Ladies Auxiliary.

S-Burg LL will make final plans for the banquet at a meeting at the Stroudsburg YMCA, Thursday, Sept. 24. Jack Mullins will preside at the session.

The next three Orioles couldn't hit the ball out of the infield and Robinson was stranded on second. It was the 15th victory for Mossi against 9 defeats.

Jack Fisher, 21-year-old Oriole right-hander, made a strong bid for his second major league victory, but wound up with his fifth setback.

The Tigers got only eight hits off him, but three in a row were Texas leaguers for the first Detroit run in the fourth. Eddie Yost scored another in the fifth on a double, infield out and sacrifice fly in the fifth. Al Kaline circled the bases in the eighth on a walk, infield out and single by Frank Bolling.

Burdette In Form

Braves Blank Gaints One Out

By Jack Stevenson

Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Veteran right-hander

Low Burdette blanked the National League leading San Francisco Giants 2-0 on five hits Wednesday as his Milwaukee Braves moved to a game behind the pace-setters.

They advanced with 30 other golfers into the fourth round over the 7,013yd. par 71 Broadmoor course in the foothills of the Rockies.

Coe, Oklahoma City oil broker, disposed of Robert Batdorf II, Hershey, Pa., 3 and 1. Aaron, 22, Gainesville, Ga., shot some of the day's finest golf in conquering Neil C. Croonquist, Hopkins, Minn., 4 and 3. Aaron was three under par.

E. Harvie Ward Jr., San Francisco's two-time champion of this tourney, stayed in the running with a 7 and 6 triumph over Payne Palmer III, Phoenix, Ariz.

Dick Chapman, 48, another former champion from Osterville, Mass., was sidelined by John Konsek, Big Ten titleholder from Purdue University, 2 up.

Konsek was one down to Chapman at the turn. He squared the match with a birdie 3 on the 40th yard 10th. Konsek, hitting every green with deadly accuracy, settled the issue with a par 4 on the 15th where Chapman missed a 4-foot putt.

Aaron, senior at Miami (Fla.) on the greens in thrashing Croonquist. Aaron dropped a 40-foot putt on No. 7, a 30-footer on No. 6 and a 10-footer on the ninth to go 4 up at the turn.

Pvt. Phil Rodgers, La Jolla, Calif., 1958 collegiate champion, fired a three under par 33 for the front nine in the third round. Rodgers slipped one over par on the 10th and 11th hole but returned to par golf the rest of the way for a 3 and 2 triumph over Jim Bourne of Seattle.

Grid Predicting Tougher Than Reaching The Moon

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Said Ike to Nikita: "Tell me, Mr. Chairman, how do you figure Navy against Boston College?"

"Futbol, fooy!" replied Nikita, through an interpreter. "Futbol is bourgeois mahem. I come to talk peace, not war. Pick 'em yourself."

A little tougher than hitting the moon are these opening forecasts of the college football season:

Louisiana State 21 Rice 8; Billy Cannon & Co. are virtually the same team which won the national title last fall. Rice lacks backfield punch.

Burdette fanned seven and walked one. The Giants' only extra-base hit was Felipe Alou's double with two out in the ninth.

A full house crowd of 22,721 saw Jones give up seven hits in the eight frames he worked and take his 13th loss.

Beating the Giants gave the defending champion Braves a chance to tie for the league lead Thursday in the series final. They came to town Wednesday tied with Los Angeles two games off the pace.

Crandall RBI

Hank Aaron grounded out to start the fourth. Then Joe Adcock cracked a single to left and Slaughter drew a walk. There were two out as Bobby Avila went down on strikes but Crandall banged a single over second with Adcock scoring easily as Willie Mays' throw went wide.

They battled 1-0, with each pitcher having a four-hitter, until two Braves were out in the eighth inning. Then Aaron, Adcock and Slaughter singled up the middle in succession, accounting for the second run.

Jones went out for an unsuccessful eighth-inning pinch hitter with Stu Miller finishing up.

San Francisco 000 000 000—0 5 1

Burdette and Crandall; S. Jones, Miller (9) and Landrith. W—Burdette (21-14). L—S. Jones (20-13).

The Sox stirred up a flurry of excitement in the ninth when Billy Goodman opened with a single. However, Ted Kluszewski popped out and Sherm Lollar grounded into a game-ending double play.

Chicago 000 100 000—1 4 1
New York 000 300 000—3 6 0

Wynn, Latman (8) and Lollar; Coates and Berra. W—Coates (6-1). L—Wynn (20-10).

Costes, a Yankee hope for 1960, allowed only two more hits—Smith's single in the seventh and Goodman's single in the ninth—the rest of the way. The 27-year-old Virginian now owns a 6-1 won-loss record.

Raiders New Defensive STC 'Look'

ANOTHER "new" football look has been shaping up at East Stroudsburg State Teachers as the Warriors prepare for their opening game against Kutztown STC on the Golden Avalanche's gridiron Saturday.

The newest installation on the "Hill" is the formation of the Raiders, a defensive unit which will spell the regulars periodically in games throughout the season.

Patterned after Louisiana State's famed "Chinese Bandits", the Raiders are a hustling group of 11 players who are expected to give the opposition plenty of fits throughout the season.

Head ESSTC grid coach John Gregory has the Raiders in place of the first defensive unit. However, the door is open to any of the "rip 'em" down unit to move into a first string berth.

Stalwarts

Making up the Gregory-version of Raiders are ends Mac Barber and Frank Conroy; tackles Harry Fowles and Al Wigard; center guard Joe Martino, back-up Larry Buzzard and Art Schisler; center backer Mel Williams and Bill Race; and fullbacks Jim Richardson and Walt Snyder.

ESSTC went through a "free day" yesterday, readying for the Pennsylvania Teachers' Football Inaugural with Kutztown. However, the "free day" didn't mean inactivity for the Warriors. The squad went through specialist passes—passing, kicking, etc. and polished up their offense and defense under the guidance of Gregory and his aides Jim Reed, Frank Grimm and Mort Hochheiser.

Robertson Enrolls

CINCINNATI (AP)—Oscar Robertson, the University of Cincinnati's two-time All-America basketball player, registered at the school Tuesday for his senior year. Robertson's registration put at rest, at least for the time being, recurring rumors that he would withdraw from school and sign a professional contract with the Harlem Globetrotters.

Seek Parilli

TORONTO (AP)—Both the Toronto Argonauts and the Ottawa Rough Riders are reported trying to land quarterback Vito (Babe) Parilli, released Tuesday by the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League.

Eastburg Tapers For Slatington

EAST STROUDSBURG HIGH yesterday began tapering off for its opening football game of the season as Head Coach Jack Kist and his assistants sent the Cavaliers through a workout at Memorial Stadium.

The Cavaliers kick off the 1959 campaign tomorrow night against Slatington under the lights at Memorial. Game time is 8 o'clock.

Slatington will come to the Cavaliers den with one victory under its belt and with a highly-touted team formed around 14 lettermen.

Head coach Fred Snyder, in a pre-season interview, was highly optimistic of the Slats chances this year.

Leading the Slatington eleven are halfback Larry Jones and fullback Dick Cole. Also ready for the Cavaliers are veteran-ends Ron Hughes and Dave Hanke.

Another star in the Slatington lineup is sophomore guard Denny Kreiss.

Slatington has at least one letterman at each of the starting positions, a nucleus which Snyder feels will lead the club a long way this year.

Ladies Anchor

East Stroudsburg, anchored by tackle and captain Foster Ladlee, will present a solid forward wall to go with the Kist Split-T attack.

The Cavalier offense will be guarded by junior quarterback Jack Fellman who will be making his first varsity start against the Slats. Fellman has looked impressive in pre-season drills as he ran the ball on keepers, passed and called plays with the poise of a veteran.

Brite Star Of The Week To Continue

JIMMY Nicholas, proprietor of Brite Cleaners, announced last night that Brite Star Athlete of the Week will continue this year through the area scholastic and college sports seasons.

Starting this weekend, a panel of judges will survey the area scholastic and college field and select one athlete who will receive the Brite plaque for his or her outstanding achievement on the sports field of battle.

The award covers, football, basketball and baseball in the area high schools and soccer, track, football, baseball, basketball, tennis, swimming and girls sports at East Stroudsburg State Teachers.

At the end of the school year, Brite will present the Outstanding Athlete of the Year Trophy at a banquet citing all of the year's winners.

Mountaineers Eye Leighton

STROUDSBURG HIGH'S grid machine moved further down the pre-season workout stretch yesterday as the Mountaineers set their sights on tomorrow night's opener with Leighton on the Indians field.

The Mountaineers and Leighton clash under the lights in an 8 p.m. starting time tilt — a regular Lehigh Valley Scholastic League contest.

Leighton already has been victorious in its only outing of the year, tipping Jim Thorpe by a 32-7 score.

The Indians, coached by Tom Faulkner, are built around eight lettermen, most of whom are backfield boys.

Heading the list of returnees are quarterback Andy Semmel, halfback Don Kratzer, end Bob Boyer, and Ron Steigewalt who was switched from center to fullback.

Coach Optimistic

Faulkner is optimistic of his eleven's chances, feeling his backs will cause all foes plenty of headaches before this season is over.

Coach Walter Bjorn's Mountaineers, stressing defense to go with its highly-regarded offense, worked out at Gordon Giffels yesterday.

The squad will hold a light drill today, brushing up on signals and assignments.

Finding adequate replacements for line berths has been Bjorn's biggest problem thus far. However he hopes as time goes on that some of the boys will gain enough experience to warrant playing them more regularly.

18 Local Police Officers Attending School Instructed By Philadelphia FBI Agents

EIGHTEEN local police officers are attending an FBI instructed school at Mountain Lake House concerned with correct procedures in firing all types of weapons.

Instructors for the course are Federal Bureau of Investigation agents from the Philadelphia office, and the lessons will cover all police firing procedures including safety methods, slow, timed and rapid firing of weapons, plus left and right hand firing.

The firing will be done from different distances including 15, 25 and 50 yards.

The practical pistol course included firing at silhouettes as well as firing at targets.

Types of guns to be fired include hand guns, rifles, shot-guns and machine guns.

Jack Tretheway, director of the school, said a total of 18 police officers from Stroud Township, Barrett, Mount Pocono, East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg police departments will attend the course. It will be given over a three-week period, two days each week. The schedule calls for instruction Sept. 15-16, 22-23 and 29-30.

The course is being made available to the police through the assistance of Elwood Huffman, who has donated the use of his range for the course.

Also attending the school is John Doebbling, area game protector.

Tretheway said the course would be continued, under local instructors, after the three-week course is finished.

New HOOVER Electric Floor Washer

Washes Floors...
Then Drinks Up the Scrub Water

The first new way to scrub floors since the mop was invented. Get rid of buckets, pails, brushes, and rags—clean those floors this all-new, modern way. No wet hands, no hard work—wash floors standing up and in your party dress if you want to. Once you've seen this new Hoover Floor Washer in action, you'll never scrub a floor again.

Easy Terms
Only $150
Per Week
After Small
Down Payment

WETS the floor with clean water and detergent. No muss—no fuss—no wet, red hands.

SCRUBS it thoroughly. The Hoover does all the work, you just guide it.

VACUUM DRIES it instantly. Just press a button, and the dirty water disappears like magic into a separate container.
